1 "The overall look and feel of our wedding was Southern elegance," Kady recalls. The plantation-style Belo Mansion's large ballroom was the perfect fit. 2 Kady's lace-and-tulle cap-sleeve gown had a scalloped neckline and a cathedral-length train. Brian wore a traditional tuxedo with a white tie. 3 Gilded urns filled with hydrangeas, roses, lilacs, lilies and orchids flanked the altar. 4 Kady's garden bouquet of freesia, peonies, roses and hydrangeas was embellished with a rhinestone brooch her grandfather gave her grandmother over 60 years ago. The bridesmaids carried textured arrangements of herbs and flowers.

5 The five-tiered buttercream cake was adorned with piping, pearlized shimmer and the couple's logo. 6 Crystals were draped over all of the arrangements. "I've always loved the romantic whimsical look of crystals hanging from branches," explains Kady. Two large candelabra centerpieces adorned the head table; multiple small floral arrangements and gilded pillar candle stands ran the length of it.
